The BLMA is a non-profit organization founded in 1951 as one of the first library music associations in the U.S. Its mission is to produce an annual series of free concerts for residents of Brookline and neighboring communities, and thereby to provide performance opportunities for young and emerging professional musicians in the Boston area. Now in its 55th season, the BLMA has produced over 300 free concerts for more than 30,000 people in the Brookline Library. Six free concerts per season (October-April) are held in Hunneman Hall at the main branch of the Library at 2:30pm on selected Sundays. The hall is handicapped accessible; seating is limited.
