The Peanut Butter & Jelly Dance Company was founded in 1980 to present performances and programs by adult professional dancer/teachers for elementary and pre-school-age audiences, to sponsor concerts directed to the public, and to teach classes for children and teachers. PB&J has three facets:

1. The Peanut Butter & Jelly Dance Company, a company of professional dancers who perform and do workshops for children,
2. PB&J Dance Classes for Kids, an after-school program of dance classes for children ages 3-8, taught from a creative movement perspective, and
3. SMALL FEETS dance company, a dance company for children ages 6 and up, presenting performances for Brookline's First Light Festival, Children's Dance Festival, our year-end concert, and other places.
